Illustration top down

For the very first time the Rubin Collagen Boosters are used in a vertical solarium. 100 powerful LEDs in the upper body area supply the skin with the well known benefits of collagen and an extra portion of moisture. This brings a better tanning result.

Optionally the customer can use the vibraNano training and choose between three different workout programs: relax, wellness and fitness. The maximum amount of oxygen supplied during the treatment implicates a perfect tanning result. The Tower Optima is specifically stationed in gyms.

In combination with a vibraNano-training, a side-alternating vibration platform, the body not only remains young but stays fit, too. During a 10 minute workout the abdomen, legs and buttocks area get stimulated by simulating the natural sequences of movements of the muscles.

Thanks to the joint-friendly movements without any effort vibraNano is suitable for almost any person at any age.
